Making a Mash for Box Turtles

First, gather the ingredients. Box turtles require 50% of their diet to be protein and 50% plant matter. Suitable protein options include eggs, insects, mice, quail, turkey, and shrimp. Plant matter can be safe greens, fruits, vegetables, or flowers. Try to limit fruit to 10% of the mash. A few commercial pellets can be added as well. It is good practice to add vitamins.

Paragraph 1

Meditation has been practiced for millennia because it promotes both mind and body wellness by training the brain to stay rooted in the present. Managing thoughts through meditation is called mindfulness. Increasing mindfulness has been linked to changes in brain structure. Mindfulness allows a pause between stimulus and response. Meditation and mindfulness often result in a more robust immune system. People who regularly practice meditation report having less stress and interpersonal conflict. Consequently, some health insurance companies offer discou[illegible] for people [illegible] meditation classes.

Cats vs. Dogs

There are many different choices when looking for a pet. Despite all the different possibilities, people will often choose either a cat or a dog. There really isn't any question, though. Except in one particular circumstance, one should always choose the cat.

First, cats are cleaner than dogs. Cats are constantly cleaning themselves. I am pretty sure the only time they lick anything is to clean it. If a cat starts licking you, it's because you are dirty and it wishes you were clean. Dogs lick everything, including your face and mouth. When a dog licks your mouth, it is like you have kissed anything the dog licked, including the bottom of your shoes and probably the toilet.

Second, cats are way more considerate than dogs. Dogs will drool on your freshly laundered linens all the time just because they want to, but cats try to make your clothes and furniture warmer by adding their fur. Cats use a litter box in order to contain their waste to a particular area, while dogs will use your shoes or favo
